Otesaga Resort Adopts Continuous Improvement Plan

COOPERSTOWN, NY-For the Otesaga Resort Hotel, which has been in continuous operation for 102 years, upgrades and improvements are part of an ongoing strategy.

Last year, the historic seasonal resort renovated the main dining room with new tables and chairs, window treatments, carpeting, and wall coverings. This year, the verandah at the back of the building facing Lake Otsego is being upgraded. Work tends to be done each year when the property closes in late-November, following the high season, so as not to disturb guests.

According to director of sales and marketing Robert Faller, the challenge in planning improvements is to bring the property up to a level that meets guests' expectations, while still retaining the historic ambiance of the resort, which is owned by the Clark Foundation.
